Essentials of Marketing Research: Putting Research into Practice, an exciting new practical guide by Kenneth E. Clow and Karen E. James offers a hands-on, applied approach to developing the fundamental data analysis skills necessary for making better management decisions using marketing research results. Each chapter opens by describing an actual research study related to the chapter content, with rich examples of contemporary research practices skillfully drawn from interviews with marketing research professionals and published practitioner studies. Clow and James explore the latest research techniques, including social media and other online methodologies, and they examine current statistical methods of analyzing data. With emphasis on how to interpret marketing research results and how to use those findings to make effective management decisions, the authors offer a unique learning-by-doing approach to understanding data analysis, interpreting data, and applying results to decision-making.

*First, in the last few years, data collection has migrated quickly to online approaches, and by 2019 represented more than 60 percent of all data collection methods. The movement to online methods of data collection has necessitated the addition of considerable new material on this topic. The chapters on sampling, measurement and scaling, questionnaire design, and preparation for data analysis all required new guidelines on how to deal with online related issues. Social media monitoring and marketing research online communities are expanding research methods and are addressed in our chapter on qualitative and observational research. Second, to enhance student analytical skills we added additional variables on social media activities to the continuing case on the Santa Fe Grill and Jose's Southwestern Café. Also, there is now a separate data set based on a survey of the employees of the Santa Fe Grill. Findings of the Santa Fe Grill customer and employee data sets are related and can be compared qualitatively to obtain additional insights. The competitor data for the continuing case enables students to make comparisons of customer experiences in each of the two restaurants and to apply their research findings in devising the most effective marketing strategies for the Santa Fe Grill. We also added a new data set in Chapter 13 on communicating marketing research findings. The data set reflects the attitudes and opinions of students in our classes about advertising and types of media"--
